Claim: This claim applies that this steer's diet through his life span, with the exception of milk consumed prior to weaning, is solely derived from forage, which for the purpose of this claim is any edible herbaceous plant material that can be grazed or harvested for feeding, with the exception of grain. Foraged based diets can be derived from (grass (annual or perennial) forbs, (e.g. legumes, Brassica and browse (leaves of wood plants such as scrubs). However, crops normally harvested for grain (including but not limited to corn, soybean, rice, wheat or oats) are only eligible feed if they are forage or harvested in the vegetative state, pre-grain. Animals cannot be fed grain or grain by products and must have continuous access to pasture during growing season. Hay, haylage, baleage, silage, crop residue without grain and other roughage sources may also be fed and are acceptable. Consumption of seeds naturally attached to forage is acceptable. Cattle can only be fed other feeds at a rate of 1% of their total feed (not animal weight). This does not include mineral/salt.
